Jonathan is the Manager of Forensics Consulting at iDS and is responsible for the oversight of operational efficiency and project delivery within Forensics – focusing on research, development, and automation of analysis tasks.

He has 20 years of experience in managing projects dealing with computer forensic examinations, data breaches and network incidents, ESI collection, processing, and hosting, as well as document review and production.

Jonathan has advised counsel in engagements regarding intellectual property and trade secret theft, contractual disputes, electronic document production, FTC second requests, due diligence investigations, embezzlement, harassment, illegal surveillance, network attack/incident handling, and network security auditing. He has also offered sworn testimony in state and federal courts.
